FIRST GUN FROM ROCHEPORT.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR.

The people of Missouri are here by the thou sand-the old and the young, and the greatest enthusiasm prevails. Never, in the whole course of my life, did I witness a more imposing, a more gratifying, a more heart-thrilling scene than the one I have beheld this day. The town of Rochport, as you are well aware, is pleasantly situated on the Missouri. In the rear of the town, is an elevation of ground, with a beautiful grove. Here the Convention have assembled. A more appropriate, convenient and delightful spot could not be found.

At 12 o'clock the different delegations were formed in line of march on the river bank in the order as published in the Times of last week.

having arrived, the Convention took a recess for two hours. At the proper hour, the Convention assembled, w organized, &c. The president then announced the order and manner of discussion as follows: Each speaker to confine his remarks to one hour and a half-a Whig was to open the discussion and to be followed by any Loco Foco, or any opposer of Harrison, and alternately Whigs & Loco Focos to the conclusion of the Convention. Whereupon Col. Jas. H. Birch, Chairman of the Central Committee, arose and addressed the assembled multitude the allotted time, in one of the most impressive, eloquent and able speeches ever made in Missouri. He touched upon the several great topics of the present political canvass, and handled them in a style every way worthy of the man and the occasion. At the conclusion of Col. B., the President announced that the stand was then free for any friend of the Administration, and that fifteen minutes would be allowed for any to come forward. But lo! no Lion of Democracy appeared, no one DARED show his head in the stand; and I verily believe, had the noted Tom Benton himself been present, he would have shrunk on this occasion. The fifteen minutes having expired, and no Federal Loco daring to show himself, Judge Robinson, formerly of Kentucky, was Judge. called to the stand; and if there is any truth in true and fair exposition of the abuses of this or any other government, than this speaker gave us. At the time of writing this he is still speaking.

It is impossible for me to give you any idea of the number present on this occasion. Some say ten, others six thousand. I would say that there were nearer five thousand than any thing else.

As the Messenger is waiting at my side, and the speeches commingled with the frequent shouts of acclamation from the crowd, is piercing me, I cannot give you even a concise account of the proceedings thus far. It is sufficient to say that the Rocheport Convention has more than equaled the expectations of the most sanguine.

Yours, &c.

C. C. C.

PROSPECT OF THE WHIGS. We think there is great reason to hope, and but little to doubt, of the success of the Whig party in electing a majority of the members of the next House of Representatives of this State. At the last election, as our friends recollect, the proper distribution of some two hundred votes would have carried the legislature, and saved the state from the disgrace of being again represented by Mr. Benton in the Senate. Let us turn to the record, and see how this matter stands: With ordinary exertion, our friends will undoubtedly succeed in the counties of St. Louis. St. Charles, Warren, Montgomery, Callaway, Boone, Lincoln, Pike, Marion, Clarke, Ralls, Monroe, Randolph, Macon, Ray, Clay, Lafayette, Saline, Cooper, Jefferson, St. Genevieve, Washington, and New Madrid, -A MAJORITY -and they have of my statement necessary, I will prove it by a host an even chance in Carroll, Caldwell, Lewis, Franklin, Rives, Crawford, St. Francois, and Howard !making together more than two thirds of the popular branch of the legislature !! Our friends at a distance may consider us over sanguine in setting down our own county as an even chance against the corrupt administration of Mr. Van Buren, sociog that we have no candidates in the field ;-but we beg them to dismiss their fears on this subject, and announce the fact that the Whigs of Howard will present for the action of the people, the most popular and talented ticket parties united.

Can such a ticket be elected ! In all sincerity

the public mind, will produce the result referred to. and we should not be surprised if the Whig majority marches forth in respectable numbers.

Of one thing our loco friends may be well advised. The Whigs are not afraid, as their adversaries falsely and privately charge, to show their MEN and their PRINCIPLES, but will exhibit both in some of his constituents, asserted that I had oppositive, and on an appropriate occasion. Their ed the appointment of Gen. Harrison, as Minister proper time, and on an appropriate occasion. Their to Columbia, because of his utter incapacity for the appointment, and inquiring of me as to the est good of the greatest number, and their men truth of the assertion. will be seen to be above reproach in the walks of believe they will.

OLD HICKORY STILL IN THE FIELD.

We have heard it said, that in a certain county in Pennsylvania, a portion of the Democrats. believed, that Thos. Jefferson was President until Gen. Jackson was inaugurated, that at the present fairs at Washington, and that they believe they are ther the above assertion was true or not. voting for him still. We do not, however, vouch for the truth of this. But we are informed by a respectable gentlemen, that in a certain county in this State, a large number of the opponents of Har- sher himself, or to make any use of it. rison sincerely believe that Gen. Jackson is still President and that he is again a candid to and they expect to vote for him next fall. The following anecdote is related: A Loco Foco candidate for some office, in one of our counties after blustering away on the stump, some considerable time about "foderalism," and even had the impudence to speak of "retrenchment and reform," he broke into a most eloquent eulogism of Gen. Jackson, and called upon his friends in the name of Heaven, to come to his support-that he had been triumphantly Gen. Harrison are the candidates." "You can't make me swallow that," replied the orator, "Gen. Jackson is the candidate, and if I knew I should go to h-l the next minute I'd vote for him." Upon this, another arose and said he 'did'nt exactly know as Gen. Jackson was the candidate, but, the candidate for Governor said the other day, in our townthat it was all the same thing to vote for Van Buren After they arrived on the spot, and the director Gen. Jackson, that they were both to keep ions from the Marshal had been given for the in their footsteps, and the devil himself could'nt future movements, &c., the hour for dinner stop him from voting for one one or tother on "em any how."

The last Democrat contains some eight or ten columns from Mr. Jno. Jameson, on the general the word of the worthy President-but this much appropriation bill-about two thirds of which is intended to prove Gen. HARRISON an abolitionist! The remarks of John are about as true as if we were to charge him with being in favor of abolishing still houses and whiskey-which the aforesaid JOHN would at any time risk his life to preserve! Gen. HARRISON will adhere to his oft repeated principles in favor of the rights of slave holders, and JOHN may stand up or fall down for the rights of the still house-just as he pleases.

The ensuing session will commence on the fourth of August. Preparations are now being made for the purpose of accommodating students. There shall be no difficulty as it regards the pleasant situation of any who may wish to board near the Academy. A music department will be connected with the present course of Instruction as soon as terms as they can be afforded at any other shop in our teacher arrives. I wrote to him some time since. He is a native German and performs scientifically on the Piano Forte, Guitar and other instruments of music. W. H. LEWIS. June 13th, 1840.

Ten Dollars Reward.

STRAYED about the 1st of March, from the subscriber, living in Brunswick, Chariton county, a very dark bay or brown FILLY, four years old this spring, and with no white except a very few white hairs in the forehead, which can with rather a crooked hind leg. She was unbroke to the saddle, but gentle to the halter. The most noted mark that I can describe is that her mane lies on the left side. Her value would not be estimated at more than thirty dollars cash, but I will give ten ollars to any person who will deliver her to me in Brunswick, or take her up and Prive me information by which I can get her again. I have learned that ler north or east into Lynn or Randolph, co. EDWIN PRICE.
